Miss Riggs of Harpoot Addresses Mis sionary Society on Conditions in Turkey-K. B. C.s Dress Rehearsal.

Turkey—K. B. C.s Dress Rehesrasi.

On Wednesday afternoon the chapel of the First Congregational church was prettily decorated with potted plants and flowrs for the April meeting of the Lathrop Memorial Foreign Missionary society. The president, Miss Susan C. Hyde, had charge of the meeting. Over seventy were present, a large number from the Central Baptist Missionary society by special invitation.

The meeting opened with singing and scripture reading; prayer was offered by Mrs. P. C. Wright. Mrs. Gallup of the Central Baptist church read an article on the abolishment of child marriage in India. A poem was read by Mrs. Miner, followed by the inspiring sirging of Will There Be Any Stars in My Crown?

In introducing Miss Riggs of Harpoot, Turkey, Miss Hyde said that she was the granddaughter of Dr. Riggs of Constantinople, and that her parents are missionaries in Marsovian, Turkey, When Miss Susan Hyde returned to this country Miss Riggs took her place for three years in the school of Adibazar.

poot, Turkey, Miss Hyde said that she was the granddaughter of Dr. Riggs of Constantinople, and that her parents are missionaries in Marsovian, Turkey. When Miss Susan Hyde returned to this country Miss Riggs took her place for three years in the school of Adibazar.

Miss Riggs said: "Harpoot is in Armenian, in the far interior. The country of Turkey is composed of many nations: Armenians, Greeks, Kurds, Arabs and Syrians, who preserve their distinct nationality. Turks are everywhere in Turkey. My work has been wholly among the Armenians, and I believe that the Young Turk party will under God carry on the government in such a way as to promote the good of the country. The army of sples who are now turned out of their lucrative offices and also the old Turks, who inherit all the prejudices of their ancestors against the Armenians, opposes the Young Turks.

"The Armenians all call themselves Christians, It is a hard problem to show them the difference between a true heart Christianity and a merely work in the building trades stops, and all the Mohammedans who go there for care.

"Conditions of despair and poverty are all over the country. Some of the causes are that the crops will be stolen when matured, merchants' goods will be selzed en route, and the ignorance among the people of the way of bettering existing conditions. The good schools established by Americans there are making conditions better and etimulating the starting of other schools. I would plead with you," the speaker said, "to pray for all these people, so dear to the heart of God."

Her clear voice and natural manner of speaking deepened the interest in what Miss Riggs said. The hymn I Hear My Saviour Calling was sung, and Rev. G. H. Ewing closed the meeting with prayer and benediction. Miss Louise Hyde was planist. The ladies present met Miss Riggs during the social hour which followed. Tea was served by Mrs. H. L.
